POPULACE WAS COLD.

Truth About Its Attitude During the Coronation Exercises Saturday.

ROYALTY RECOGNIZED FEEBLY.

There Were Cheers For Kitchener and the King and Queen, but the Others Were Passed Up. Festivities Continued.

London, Aug. 11.—The festivities in London were continued Sunday. There were considerable crowds almost all day long in the vicinity of Buckingham palace and along the route of the coronation procession, viewing the decorations and watching the flow of notable personages to and from the various thanksgiving services. The Canadian arch was brilliantly illuminated, was a great center of attraction and served to bring an immense concourse of people into the neighborhood. The king and queen drove out during the day. Special services were held in all the churches.

The newspapers here have been rather ridiculous in some of their comments upon the coronation events. To read these papers one would imagine that no one had ever looked to be in better health than King Edward. One exception to the foregoing is found in Reynold's Weekly Newspaper, which has a tremendous circulation among the masses, and, at least on this occasion, it had a good foundation for its description of the coronation ceremonies and attitude of the crowd on Saturday. The paper acknowledges that "a mighty greeting" was accorded King Edward and Queen Alexandra, but says:

"The one man the populace knew and desired to cheer above them all was Lord Kitchener. He was no gilded peer, because he was descended on the left-hand side from the harem of a seventeenth-century monarch. He sat on his horse like a centaur, a grim, stern and never-smiling figure; a man who had accomplished something. History may rate his achievements poor, but history will have to say he worked. The crowd was not repelled by Lord Kitchener's cold and almost callous indifference."

"I wonder," continues the writer, "what these mighty personages who, for all the crowd cared, might have been figures in waxwork, thought of the conduct of the multitude. The crowd would have naught to do with your pinchbeck, half-dozed royalists; your Mecklenburg-Strelitzes; your Schleswig-Holsteins, nor even your Dukes of Sparta. The crown princes of Germany were passed by as though they were Dick, Tom and Harry. Even the Prince and Princess of Wales passed by with little more than a murmur of appreciation. Perhaps the most satisfactory feature of the occasion was the general refusal of the democracy to make themselves absurd by over-enthusiastic demonstrations. Of the 30 or 40 royal personages not more than half a dozen aroused what could be called enthusiasm. Queen Alexandra's popularity was proved, but some of the princesses were seen to be bowing gracefully in response to no salutations whatever."

Held Up by Revolutionists.

Willemstad, Curacao, Aug. 11.—The Red Line steamer Caracas, which has arrived here from La Guayra, Venezuela, brings the news that Captain John Nickels of the United States training ship Topeka, now at La Guayra, had been held up by revolutionists when returning by train from Caracas, whither he had gone to confer with United States Minister Bowen. The men who stopped the train which carried Captain Nickels showed him great courtesy, and the train was permitted to proceed immediately. Trains running between La Guayra and Caracas have been held up several times lately by revolutionists.

Opera House Block Burned.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 11.—The opera house block, one of the largest buildings here, which was occupied by the Imperial Dry Goods company, the One-Price Clothing company and the Eleventh Avenue opera house, was gutted by fire and caused a loss of $55,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. The dry goods company's damage is estimated at over $40,000.

Archbishop Corrigan's Successor.

New York, Aug. 11.—It became known to prominent laymen of the Roman Catholic church in this diocese that the nomination of Bishop John M. Farley to succeed Archbishop Corrigan had been confirmed by the pope. Bishop Farley said he did not expect to hear anything until the news came through the apostolic delegate at Washington.

MILLIONAIRE KILLED.

Fatal Outcome of a Dispute Over an Account With Civil Engineer.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Walter A. Scott, president of the Illinois Wire company, was stabbed to death in the Monadnock building by Walter L. Stebbings, civil and consulting engineer, with offices in the same building. Stebbings used a paper knife, stabbing twice. The stabbing occurred in Mr. Scott's private office. Mr. Stebbings had done some work for the Illinois Wire company, over which there had been a dispute. The two had a quarrel and Stebbings, it is said, called Scott a liar. There was a scuffle, and the two burst from the private office with blood flowing from Scott's wounds. Stebbings made no attempt to escape.

Stebbins when arrested said he had struck Scott in self defense and that he had not intended injuring him seriously. The fight was witnessed by Miss Myrtle Shumate, a stenographer in Scott's office, who ran screaming into the hall. Occupants of other offices notified the police, who placed Stebbings under arrest.

According to Miss Shumate's story, the two men were in Scott's private office for nearly an hour disputing over a claim for $3,000. Suddenly the door was thrown open and the men staggered into the outer office, kicking each other and using their fists.

Stebbins held the long steel paper knife in his right hand and the weapon could be seen flashing as the men struggled. Suddenly Stebbings struck Scott in the body. The blow was repeated a moment later. Scott staggered backward and finally fell to the floor. He died within half an hour.

Mr. Scott was 43 years old and lived at the Virginia hotel. He leaves a widow and one son, who are at present in the east. Mr. Scott was recently president and owner of the Marietta and Southeastern railroad and owner of the Scott Lumber company and controlled a large amount of real estate. He was reputed to be a millionaire.

When told later that Scott was dead, Stebbings turned pale. Had not a policeman caught him he would have fallen from his chair. Finally he controlled himself enough to speak. "Dead," he exclaimed. "I cannot realize it. I did not mean to kill him. I was opening a letter with the paper knife. He struck me. I hardly know what happened after that. I did not even know that I had stabbed him. I thought I had only knocked him down."

Strikers Accused of Intimidation.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 11.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of 31 striking miners at Kingston, Luzerne borough and Edwardsburg, charged with rioting while doing picket duty in the vicinity of the Woodward breaker of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western's colliery. It is alleged that the strikers intimidated men who wanted to go to work and turned them back by force. National Board Member John Fallon claims that there was no intimidation.

The following strike notice for the week has been issued from headquarters: "The anthracite region is as firm as Gibraltar. No desertions, no weakening, no grumbling. West Virginia situation unchanged and the strikers are firm and orderly."

Killed by Negroes.

Columbia, Tex., Aug. 11.—County Attorney Ed C. Smith was killed and Deputy Sheriff Cochran Willis wounded by a party of negroes who were attempting to prevent the arrest of one of their number. Deputy Sheriff Willis first attempted to arrest one of the negroes and was fired on, the bullet taking effect in the arm. He called for assistance and a number of white men responded, among them County Attorney Smith. The negroes near by rallied to the support of the black and about 50 shots were fired, Smith's spine being cut by a bullet, which produced death. The negroes escaped by swimming the Brazos river.

Storm's Destructive Work.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 11.—About a score of buildings were unroofed and otherwise damaged by a terrific storm that visited Trenton. The properties injured were in the center of the city, and the electric light and trolley wires at that point were torn down, suspending trolley service and causing a portion of the city to be in darkness. Fortunately no one was injured. The damage can not be estimated, but it will probably not exceed $50,000. The storm was confined to a very narrow area. The downpour of rain was terrific, over four inches of water falling in two hours, flooding the streets.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Madame Janauschek, the actress, who was stricken with paralysis, is in a critical condition.

MET DEATH BY FIRE.

Seven Persons Are Burned to a Crisp In a Texas Hotel Blaze.

VICTIMS WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

All Stood on a Small Balcony, Fearing to Jump, and Soon Fell Back Into the Flames. The Property Loss.

San Angelo, Tex., Aug. 11.—A fire, discovered in the Landon hotel by the night clerk, destroyed the structure entirely, burning seven people to a crisp and doing a property damage of $75,000. The dead are: Mrs. Landen, wife of the proprietor of the hotel; Mrs. Ed Hedrick of Waco, Tex.; Mrs. Fowler of Houston, Tex., and her grandson; Mrs. Schulimsky of Houston, Tex., and two sons. All of the bodies that have been recovered are fearfully charred, and in no condition to be moved except in blankets.

When the clerk discovered the flames the interior of the dining room was a gulf of flame and he could not get through. He rushed up the main stairway, kicking in doors, calling out at the top of his voice and making noise in every way. Most of the inmates were aroused by this means and by the discharge of firearms as some of the first guests got out. There were 75 people in the house and all of them got out safely with the exception of the seven named and three others who have not yet been located, but who are believed to be safe. The seven women and children got out on a small balcony and were appealed to jump into blankets which were being held for them, but they failed to do so and delayed until the gallery fell back into the flames which were licking up the big frame house. In addition to the hotel three stables and half a dozen stores were burned, only the greatest effort preventing the whole of the business section of the town from being destroyed.

GENERAL SALNAVE

Defeats the Army of the Provincial Government.

Cape Haytian, Aug. 11.—General Albert Salnave, commandant of the Artibonite Firminist troops, has completely defeated the army of the provisional government under General Alexis Nord at Limbe, capturing General Nord's cannon and munitions of war. Many of General Nord's soldiers were killed and a great number taken prisoners. General Salnave continues his march on Cape Haytian, an attack on which is hourly expected.

Battle Expected.

Washington, Aug. 11.—The navy department received the following cablegram from Commander McCrea of the gunboat Machias, dated Cape Haytian, Aug. 9: "Haytian gunboat landed force from Cape Haytian on Friday afternoon. An engagement is hourly expected. Will be ready to land."

American Merchant's Affliction.

London, Aug. 11.—D. H. Fanning of New York, a cabin passenger on the North German Lloyd steamer Friederich der Grosse, which reached Southampton from New York July 31, has arrived in London and was taken to St. Giles infirmary under the wandering lunatic act. Mr. Fanning is connected with the firm of Hass Brothers of New York city, and his parents are spending the summer at Newport. Mr. Fanning startled the guests who crowded the courtyard of the Hotel Cecil by driving into the court in an automobile and declaring he was the Savior and had just come from heaven in his machine. On his way to the hotel, Mr. Fanning threw a large sum of money about the streets.

McMillan's Successor.

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 11.—Governor A. T. Bliss was greatly shocked at the death of Senator James McMillan and expressed the regret which he said he knew would be generally shared over the loss sustained by the state and the nation. He absolutely declined to be interviewed regarding the matter of a successor to Senator McMillan until after the funeral, but intimated that the vacancy would undoubtedly be left to the state legislature to fill in the regular way when it convened in January next, unless some unexpected contingency should render a temporary appointment advisable.

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 11.—Captain Shields, medical officer of the transport Drayton Grange, from South Africa, has made a report in which he says: "The overcrowding of the ship was shameful and scandalous and without consideration for health or loss of life. The air was poisonous and foul and the decks were always wet causing pleurisy and pneumonia."

THAT BRIDGE PROJECT.

L. and N. Officials Claim Their Company is Not Behind the Move For Maysville-Aberdeen Structure.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 9.—The L. and N., according to its officials in Cincinnati, has no interest in a proposed bridge across the Ohio river from Aberdeen, O., to Maysville, Ky.

The promoters of a trolley line from Ripley, O., to Aberdeen, have tried to induce the L. and N. to bear part of the expense of erecting the bridge, on the ground that the L. and N. would have an opening for a branch line to Ripley. The L. and N. has connections with Ripley, through the C. and O., and did not give a favorable reply to the promoters.

A party of Maysville officials has visited Superintendent of Terminals Brent Arnold, of the L. and N., in an endeavor to interest him in the new bridge.

A Sick Room Decalogue.

(The Practitioner.)

The following commandments for the management of the sick room should be read, marked, learnt, and inwardly digested by all nurses:

1. Thou shalt remove surplus rugs, furniture, &c., and make room for thy work.

2. Thou shalt maintain perfect ventilation without draughts.

3. Thou shalt keep the patient clean and quiet.

4. Thou shalt foresee the needs of thy patient. Don't let them ask for anything.

5. Thou shalt promptly remove and burn all sputa, and thoroughly disinfect all culinary utensils and vessels used by the patient.

6. Thou shalt restrict visiting, loud talking, and above all whispering in the sick chamber.

7. Thou shalt not ask the sick what they want to eat, rather say: "I have prepared something dainty, and want you to eat it."

8. Thou shalt not annoy the sick by telling thy troubles, sad experiences, and all thou knowest.

9. Thou shalt let in the sunshine and try to be a sunbeam thyself.

10. Thou shalt remember that the tenth commandment is to mind thine own business, follow directions faithfully, cheerfully and promptly, and the sick will arise and call thee blessed.

On August 11 and 14 the C. and O. will sell round trip tickets, Maysville to Put In Bay, Ohio, at rate of one fare, $10.40. Return limit August 18th.

County Judge Gregory, of Louisville, last week awarded judgment against six of the national banks of that city for about $17,000 State and county taxes on their shares of stock for year 1899. The banks paid the judgment Saturday. The suit was instituted by T. C. Albritton, State Revenue Agent, and is similar to the suit recently filed by Auditor's Agent Watson against the national banks of this city.

The Lewis County Teachers' Institute just closed one of the most interesting sessions ever held. The teachers not only passed a resolution to agitate the question of voting a county tax of 15 cents on the $100 to extend the school term, but they had printed blank petitions and placed one in the hands of each teacher to secure the requisite number of signatures to have the County Judge order an election for November, 1902. The tax will probably be voted.

The management of the Maysville Elk's Fair was fortunate in arranging for automobile races for Thursday and Friday, Aug. 21st and 22nd. The machines weigh 2,000 pounds each and will race at the rate of a mile a minute, guided by the noted chauffeurs, Messrs. Carl Fisher and Joe Graham. This feature is a distinctly new one and many have never had the opportunity of seeing the like before, so let all avail themselves of this opportunity and tell your neighbors and friends that the biggest and best fair is the Maysville Elk's Fair, Aug. 20th to 23rd.

It has been learned that the man who robbed the postoffice and Grigsby's store at Tollesboro last week reached Maysville about 5 o'clock the morning after the theft,—just about the time the telephone message was received here asking for the bloodhounds to be sent out. The man made his appearance in Tollesboro a day or two before the robbery and put up at the Perkins House. He was not suspected of the job until 9 o'clock the morning after the robbery when a search of his room showed that he had disappeared. He left the stolen horse and buggy at the infirmary farm, and it is thought he boarded the 6:40 C. and O. train at Lexington street.

EACH SIDE STILL FIRM.

Beginning of the Fourteenth Week of the Great Anthracite Strike.

RELIEF FUND SWELLED DAILY.

Usual Report In Circulation That the Companies Are About to Attempt Resumption—Situation to Date.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 11.—The fourteenth week of the anthracite miners' strike began today. President Mitchell is authority for the statement that the strikers are in good shape. Contributions to the relief fund are coming in from many quarters now, and the dissatisfaction which was first evinced over the distribution has now disappeared, and the strikers have settled down to what they believe is going to be a much longer siege than was first anticipated.

The promoters of a trolley line from Ripley, O., to Aberdeen, have tried to induce the L. and N. to bear part of the expense of erecting the bridge, on the ground that the L. and N. would have an opening for a branch line to Ripley. The L. and N. has connections with Ripley, through the C. and O., and did not give a favorable reply to the promoters.

A general review of the whole strike region shows that unless the operators can break the ranks of the strikers by starting up a colliery here and there the men will be inclined to remain out for some time yet. The amount of relief to be distributed will not satisfy all, but the miners seem to be willing to make some sacrifices in that direction in the hope that eventually they will win.

A $20,000 contribution from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen is expected by the strikers within the next 10 days. It is said that 400 lodges will contribute $50 each. Other railway brotherhoods are expected to follow suit.

Condition of Collieries.

Shamokin, Pa., Aug. 11.—Edward Brennan of this place, state inspector of the Seventh anthracite district, said every one of the 30 collieries in his district will be in condition for operation as soon as the strike ends. While a few are flooded, the upper levels can be operated and eventually all the levels. He estimates 75 per cent of the men will be able to procure work at once when the collieries are reopened, and the remainder within a month or two. He thinks the total damage to collieries caused by the tie-up will reach between $6,000 and $10,000.

More Arrests.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 11.—Brigadier General Gobin remained at headquarters all day. He said he had received no information of impending trouble anywhere, and knew nothing of any attempt to start collieries. County officials are still endeavoring to arrest persons who were in any way connected with the fatal riot of July 30. It is understood that two foreigners now under arrest charged with rioting will also have to answer to the charge of murder.

KING OSCAR

Aids in Saving Many Persons From Drowning.

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 11.—While King Oscar was yachting near the Marstrand bridge, which was crowded with women and children, the structure collapsed, throwing its occupants into the water. The king threw off his coat and assisted in the rescue of 23 persons who were taken aboard the yacht.

Volcano Groaning.

Managua, Nicaragua, Aug. 11.—The Santiago, one of the Masaya volcanoes in Nicaragua, has been emitting vapors, accompanied by groaning sounds, for the last 20 days. The commissioners and the governor of the department of Masaya, in which the volcano is located, report that in their opinion there is danger of an eruption occurring shortly. The town of San Fernando de Masaya is situated at the foot of the volcano of Masaya. It has a population of 22,000, nine-tenths of whom are natives. The volcano is 3,000 feet high.

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS.

We again find it necessary to remind some of our patrons that "change" copy for advertisements must be in our hands the afternoon previous to publication. We are forced to adopt this rule in order to treat all alike and prevent a deluge of copy at the eleventh hour. Merchants will kindly make it a point to have their announcements ready in time. What's the use having "rules" if they are not lived up to?

THE employees of the American tin plate trust were recently asked to accept a reduction of 25 per cent. in wages, but voted no. Well, why should their wages be reduced in these good Republican times?

THE city should plan to extend Third street through to connect with Lexington street, following the south side of the L. and N. railroad. It would require no very great expenditure also to connect with Forest avenue by extending Commerce street. This would obviate the annual trouble from floods in the Ohio.

SAYS the New York World: "There is no doubt that tariff reform and the related question of monopoly presents the most concrete and popular issue for the Democrats. Thousands of Republicans see that our worse-than-war tariff, in many instances 50 per cent. higher than it was when our 'infant industries' were really young and needed protection, is an obstacle to justice to Cuba, a hindrance to the reciprocity for which President McKinley argued in his last speech, a prolific 'mother of trusts,' bulwark to monopolies, an oppression to consumers and a baneful corrupter of politics."

SECRET service detectives are engaged in investigating reports of systematic frauds practiced on Uncle Sam in the Manila transport service. The statement is made that in the discharging and loading of Government steamers, the Quartermaster's Department, like private shipping houses, employs hundreds of cascoes during the year. These concerns are all licensed, and are all of a registered tonnage, on record at the Custom House. It is reported that for a number of years, months or days, certain cascoes which were of light tonnage were credited on the books with carrying freight far beyond their capacity. For instance, casco No. 1,274, registered at the Custom House as being able to carry sixty-five tons, and by actual measurement not having any larger capacity, was found to figure on the returns to have carried eighty-five tons of freight, and was so credited and paid. A fresh supply of white-wash will probably be needed shortly.

THE New York Sun, a Republican paper, expressed an opinion on the anti-trust amendment proposed by the Republicans in the Fifty-sixth Congress in words that can leave no doubt as to what it thinks of Republican protestations on the trust question. It said:

When we say plainly that this is the most dishonest and therefore the most disreputable piece of work achieved during the present session by the leaders of Republican policy in the House, we are not speaking of the merits of the proposed amendment. Its revolutionary character, the sweeping changes it would effect in the entire system of our institutions, the bestowal upon Congress of an unlimited and arbitrary power over all private business in all the States, and without regard to State lines and State rights, need not even be discussed.

There is no more prospect of its adoption by a two-third vote of both House and Senate, and of its ratification by the legislature of three-fourths of the forty-five States than there is of the adoption of a constitutional amendment vesting in the Federal Government the direct management of all the myriad industries of this land.

The dishonesty of the performance lies in the fact that there was no expectation on the part of the author of this resolution, or of the Republicans of the Judiciary Committee who favorably reported it, or of the Republicans of the House who were willing to vote for it, that as the proposed sixteenth amendment will ever amount to more than a campaign trick of the cheapest and unwholesome kind.

And yet the very authors of that trick would pose as the saviors of the country from the trusts.

"MONEY DEVILS" BACK OF THE SCHEME.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune thinks he sees in the proposition to float a Cuban loan of $40,000,000, a scheme which inspired the opposition in Congress leading to the defeat of Cuban reciprocity. "There is no disposition," says this correspondent, "to doubt either the necessity or the wisdom of the movement in the Cuban Congress to float a loan of the proportions mentioned. There is serious doubt, however, of the ability of the Cuban Government to contract a debt of such dimensions. At the same time it is recognized as highly probable that the men in the Congress of the United States who were responsible, through their opposition to Cuban reciprocity, for the present pressing needs of the Insular Government were perfectly aware of the requirements of the situation in the island, and that they deliberately lent their great influence to the causes which conspired to defeat President Roosevelt's urgent recommendation for authority to negotiate a reciprocal commercial arrangement. The prediction is freely made in Washington that if the Congress of this country authorizes the loan proposed by the Cubans, the bonds will be bought by the group of financiers in New York which caused the law-makers at the last session to reject the President's recommendation. In other words, it is strongly suspected that the proposed loan is an essential part of the plan devised by American capitalists to get a secure and lasting grip on Cuba, and that but for this general plan reciprocity would not have been defeated."

No doubt Wall street and the "money devils" it harbors were back of the defeat of the Cuban reciprocity bill, if they for a moment imagined such a scheme as the above could be "worked" out successfully. Congress is Republican and, of course, if the Republican Tribune's suspicions are well founded, the Republicans are alone the ones who have helped Wall street to further this nefarious scheme, and make its success possible by defeating the reciprocity bill.

Judge Harbeson a Candidate for Reelection.
[Greenup Democrat.]

"While in Greenup holding court last week, Judge J. P. Harbeson announced to his friends that he would again ask the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge in this district. This will be good news to the many friends of Judge Harbeson in Greenup County, who love to honor him by their respect and their votes. During the two terms he has occupied the bench he has made many warm friends among the people here by his firmness, fairness and impartiality, who will no doubt be pleased to give him their support in his race for a third term. It is some time until the election, but as Judge Harbeson will have opposition for the nomination, it is no more than right that the people may know at this early date that he will be a candidate for re-nomination."

Harrodsburg Herald: "While Mr. T. S. Marimon was talking to some friends in the band stand he coughed up a pebble about as large as a medium-sized marble. For some months his throat had troubled him and he has had an almost constant hacking cough, but the removal of the pebble has relieved him of both. He hasn't the remotest idea of how the stone got into his larynx."

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

Trade Not Satisfactory and There Was a Falling Off in the Offerings—About Same Old Story.

Week,	1901.
Offerings, hhdhs.....	1,720 622
Total rejections.....	324 113

Actual sales..... 1,396 509

Total receipts..... 2,021 1,518

The 1,720 hhdhs. tobacco offered averaged $7.06 per 100 pounds, as against $7.98 for 1,690 hhdhs. previous week, and $7.58 for the 622 hhdhs. in the corresponding week last year.

Offerings on the auction breaks showed a slight increase as compared with previous week, but were far below the receipts, which would indicate that the market was not generally satisfactory to sellers. The market opened fairly strong on Tuesday, but weakened considerably on Wednesday and Thursday on the medium and better grades, prices being decidedly irregular in these types. The easier feeling is accounted for in a large measure by the action of the Continental Tobacco Company, which has recently decreased its average weekly purchases from 20 to 30 per cent. In this condition the French Regie and the large independent manufacturers have been the most important factors in sustaining prices. The Centennial, while not a heavy purchaser during the week, took a prominent part in the bidding, shippers' interests, therefore, benefiting in the competition.

Claims are made on the breaks that the Continental Company has but a very scant supply of raw material on hand, and that the company will soon begin to take its former quota again.

In the low grades which continue to constitute the major part of the offerings, prices were very fairly sustained from the opening sales to the close, this favorable condition being largely due to purchases by the exporters and independent manufacturers.

Good common trashers around $5, and color lugs under $8.50, were prime favorites throughout the week. Clean, bright goods, however, were in very scant supply, and scarcely any of decided good color was seen in the breaks under $8.

Reports from the growing sections indicate that the crop is making very satisfactory progress, except in the Eastern and Southeastern Kentucky districts, where much complaint is heard of continued dry weather. Plants in the Northern Kentucky, Southern Ohio and West Virginia sections are doing finely, and from present indications the yield will largely make up the decreased acreage, as compared with last year.

The State election Commissioners will meet the last of the month.

A "SURPRISE" PROGRAM

Has Been Arranged For the District Sunday School Convention at Shannon Next Sunday.
